DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to because the reference numerals are not consistent with the specification. For e.g., in Fig. 4, the hinge pin is referred to as 151 instead of 161 and the hinge spring is referred to as 161 instead of 171. Applicant is requested to check all drawings and ensure that all reference numerals are consistent with Applicant's specification. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement-drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the examiner does not accept the changes, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

Application/Control Number: 10/773,346

Art Unit: 3733

Claims 1-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, lines 8-9, the limitation "means mounted on said support frame engageable by a section of each blade for holding said each blade at a selected angular displacement" seems to imply that the same means is engaged by each blade.

In claim 17, lines 12-13, the limitation, "a holding means holds the blades at selected angular positions between the closed position and the open position" seems to imply that the same holding means is engaged by each of the blades.

Appropriate correction of the above is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2, 4-5, 8, 10, 15-17, 23, 26, 29 and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Karlin et al. (US 3,509,873).

Karlin et al. disclose a retractor including: a support frame; at least three blades (2, 3, 4); and means (12) mounted on the frame and engageable by a section of each blade (Fig. 1, col. 2, lines 55-72, cols. 3-4 and col. 5, lines 1-53). See marked up Fig. 1 on the following page.

Regarding claim 10, Karlin et al. disclose a plurality of blocks 8 and 9, each of which interact with a respective end section of a respective blade by means of members 5, 6 and 7.

SECTION

Claims 1-6, 10, 15-17, 22-27 and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Charters (US 5,916,151).

ELONGATED SECTION

Charters discloses an instrument for dilating a body cavity including: a control ring or "support frame" 31; at least three blades 11; adjustment means (50, 33) that is used to hold each blade at a selected angular displacement (Figs. 5, 7 and 9, cols. 3-4 and col. 5, lines 1-19).

Note, during examination, claims must be interpreted as broadly as their terms reasonably allow. This means that the words of the claim must be given their plain meaning unless applicant has provided a clear definition in the specification. In re Zletz, 13 USPQ2d 1320, 1322 (Fed. Cir. 1989). Thus, "blade' is being interpreted to be a "long, thin piece" (Source: The American Heritage® Dictionary of the English Language: Fourth Edition. 2000).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which

Application/Control Number: 10/773,346

said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7, 14 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Charters (US 5,916,151).

Charters discloses the claimed invention except for the specific shape of the blade and the support frame. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to construct the Charters blades with the second end sections and the elongated sections of each blade connected together at a respective hinge to form an acute angle or the support frame with an octagonal shape, since applicant has not disclosed that this solves any stated problem or is anything more than one of numerous shapes or configurations a person of ordinary skill in the art would find obvious for the purpose of providing a blade or a support frame. In re Dailey and Eilers, 149 USPQ 47 (1966).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 9, 11-13, 18-21 and 30 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
